Comments are noted

The paragraph crossed out referring to bars etc could be left in without mentioning the church. Most residents do not want such businesses.

I think mention should be made of the foresight of early residents in the incorporation of the village.

Also a zoning ordinance was adopted with the hope of controlling an orderly development in the city. This provided & would still provide for most expansion. It was one of the first in Idaho

Georgetown City Council
Georgetown, Idaho 83239

City Council and Mr. Mayor:

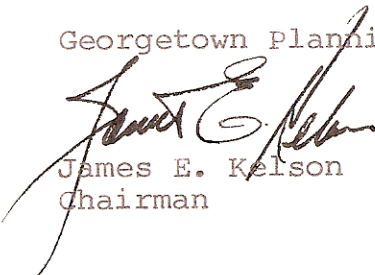

We have reviewed the draft copy of the Georgetown Comprehensive Plan, a copy of which you have in your possession. To my knowledge, it meets with the full approval of the Planning and Zoning Committee.

The committee, in conjunction with the Bear Lake Regional Commission, developed this report as an overall plan for the city's future growth. We feel that the proposals contained in the plan will achieve a beneficial balance of interests and resources for the citizens and government of the city of Georgetown.

Our recommendations are: 1.) the city council adopt the plan as established, following a public meeting and, 2.) the city council seek to enhance the plan by determining a one mile impact area (beyond the city limits), upon approval of the county of Bear Lake.

Sincerely,

Georgetown Planning and Zoning Committee

James E. Kelson
Chairman

RESOLUTION

Recognizing the need for planning in our community due to the increase in recreation and energy activity, and further recognizing the fact that the Bear Lake Regional Commission has the capabilities of assisting our community with planning for our community's future, we do hereby support the Farmers Home Administration Grant Application to assist our community in achieving a Comprehensive Plan.

Signed this 29 day of Oct, 1980

Leland M. Hayes
Leland Hayes, Mayor of Georgetown
